CORBETT TO HEAD UP TECHNICAL SERVICES FOR EXPANDING QUALI-PRO® PORTFOLIO

Raleigh, NC – February, 2007 — Jerry Corbett has joined Quali-Pro as Technical Services manager. Corbett will be leading research and development efforts in product combinations and formulation innovations for continued expansion of the most comprehensive portfolio in post-patent brands.

"Jerry is a great addition to the Quali-Pro team and his experience and skills will further separate our business model from other generic suppliers. And that's just business as usual at Quali-Pro." States Russ Mitchell, Quali-Pro Product and Marketing Director.

Formally the Biology Manager for Bayer Environmental Sciences Turf & Ornamental Development and Training Center in Clayton, NC, Corbett will also be formalizing university and independent research programs, and instrumental in disseminating data and results to the industry and producers. In addition to coordinating research and Tech service projects for Bayer, he also designed and built the Turf and Ornamental research facility at Clayton.

"I'm excited about the opportunities and growth potential at Quali-Pro. Quali-Pro continues to show their sincere commitment to the turf and ornamental industry -- in both product and service." says Corbett.
